On May 1st, Dr. Francis Fukuyama was the main speaker of the five-day conference, Institute for Domestic Diversity and International Issues, at the Barbara Ying Center. Approximately, 30 faculty attended the conference to learn how effectively internationalize their courses. Ragda Kuryd, Coordinator of International Student and Scholar Services, presented a workshop, “Effectively Teaching and Working with International Students,” to help faculty understand the needs of international students. Ragda was presented a handmade plaque engraved with the UCF Pragam logo from a Turkish student for being a mentor for the Institute.

The Housing and Residence Life staff attended a retreat on May 12-14th at the Warren Willis United Methodist Camp in Leesburg, Florida. The goal of the retreat was to get the RA staff to develop a strong team in order to be able to rely on each other in the upcoming year. The weekend of activities included a Ropes Course, Wacky Olympics, Brown Bag Skits and training sessions. One training session involved an Area Planning Meeting with the area coordinators, Returning Resident Assistant Panel and Archie Bunker’s Neighborhood. The diversity training session addressed the topic of “Are we the same or different.” The first year RA’s got a chance to find out more about their job and Housing as a whole. The returning RA’s stepped into their leadership roles during the weekend. BIG THANKS to the facilitators: Tricia Panarello, Jan Wilson, Heather McKay, Andrew Campbell and Jimmy Moore.

No Slow Times in the FY Office
During March and April, 1,245 FY advisors had summer and fall 2000 schedule plans prepared. This represents an increase of 219 (18%) advisors compared to March and April 1999! During March and April, 415 FY advisors were assisted in summer/fall course registration (15% increase compared to March and April 1999).

Current and Prospective Students Getting Information On-Line
First Year Advising (FY) began putting its First Year Times newsletter on-line this past October. The third edition of the First Year Times for this academic year was put on the web in early February and we are pleased to announce our web site: http://pogum.ucf.edu/fytimes/ was accessed 1,176 times over a three month time frame. A prospective freshman student from Virginia sent the following e-mail regarding the web site and the First Year Times.

“Hello, well I'd just like to take the time to thank you for putting the First Year Times on the web. It has been most helpful to me in my transition to UCF as a future student from out-of-state.”

Undergraduate Admissions reports...
• The start of the summer semester promises to be lively in Undergraduate Admissions as a new recruitment year gets underway. Staff host area receptions for high school seniors throughout May and June, and are gearing up for an open house for rising seniors scheduled for July.
• Excellent news from the recruitment front! This year UCF is on track to welcome 30 National Merit Scholars, up from 19 last year.
• Undergraduate Admissions bids a fond farewell to Assistant Director Jacqueline West-Lee. Thank you, Jackie, for a job well done!

STATEWIDE JOB FAIR
UCF’s Career Resource Center (CRC) hosted the 12th annual Statewide Job Fair on May 11th. This is a special event scheduled the week after graduation for those students who have not found employment, or have not started their job searches. Studies confirm that the majority of college graduates do not begin to look for a job until after they complete graduation. The event is coordinated by the directors of the ten CRC career centers.

They comprise the State University System Committee on career development. The career centers share their employer data bases to mail invitations to employers, and also encourage their students to attend. It was decided that the best locations to hold this event would be at USF and UCF—central to the state. This year’s event had the largest number of employers and the largest student participation in its history. The 228 employers in attendance pushed the capacity limits of the UCF Arena. The record student turnout of over 1,600 was managed by more than 40 staff members from the other university’s career centers along with the UCF’s CRC staff. There clearly is an advantage to the host university having the lion’s share of students in attendance, as 70% of the student attendees were from UCF! Evaluations by employers indicated overwhelmingly that the quality of prospective candidates was high, and that valuable connections were made.
